

A TALK: Cross Dressing Your Genres

Transform a story into a poem, into a lyric, into a script, into a screenplay, into a novel and back again. A humorous look at the various genres and how they can -- but shouldn't -- restrict creative thinking. Margaret's lecture on writing is thought provoking and funny. She encourages creativity by damning housework and other enemies of promise!