

THE VELVET FIST: the art of manuscript critiquing.

Have you got a work-in-progress that is oh-so-close but not quite right? Do you want to air some of your writing in a safe and facilitated environment and receive constructive criticism from peer evaluators? Do you want to learn how to evaluate manuscripts and give feedback without crushing creative spirits? Do you want to see what other writers are working on and learn from them ways to improve your own work? Join Margaret Macpherson and a host of writers in a give and take workshop that goes beyond, "That's so good!"
